

Dynamic Programming is an algorithm that breaks a problem into smaller subproblems and solves them.